

Cohen Veterans Network - Quick Summary (as of January 3, 2018)

The Cohen Veterans Network publicly launched in April 2016 and currently has seven Steven A. Cohen Military Family Clinics in operation. Each clinic is focused on providing client-centered, customized, outpatient mental health care to veterans and military families.

Three more clinics are slated to open in early 2018: Denver, CO, Killeen, TX, and Clarksville, TN. Another round of expansion is scheduled before the close of the year.

Current results:

- CVN clinics have treated more than 4,700 clients across the country from April 2016 to date.
- The network is treating the entire military family as 43% of our clients are non-veterans. We are treating parents, siblings, spouses or partners, children, caretakers, and others.
- Among clients surveyed in late 2017, 93% reported after treatment that they could now “effectively deal with my problems,” while 97% would recommend our clinics to a veteran, family member, or friend.

Key takeaways:

- The vast majority (96%) of CVN clients report “getting a first appointment as soon as they wanted it.”
- Among all of our clients, women represent 46% of the population. Among just veteran clients, women make up 25% of the group. This percentage is two times the size of the female veteran population in the United States.
- CVN is seeing veterans who have served in the United States Armed Forces, regardless of role while in uniform or discharge status. This includes the National Guard and Reserves.
- More than 10% of our veteran clients have an other than honorable discharge status.

ABOUT CVN

Our Steven A. Cohen Military Family Clinics treat a variety of mental health issues including depression, anxiety, post-traumatic stress, adjustment issues, anger, grief and loss, family issues, transition challenges, relationship problems, and children’s behavioral problems. The high-quality care is confidential and accessible, at low or no-cost to the military families. For more information: <https://www.cohenveteransnetwork.org/press/>

MEDIA CONTACT

Anthony Guido, Vice President of Communications & Marketing
anthony.guido@cohenveteransnetwork.org