The Cohen Veterans Network Announces Partner and Location of Virginia Beach Clinic to Serve Veterans and Military Families

The Up Center has been chosen as the local partner for the new Steven A. Cohen Military Family Clinic located at 828 Healthy Way in Virginia Beach

Virginia Beach, VA, November 5, 2018 – More than 200,000 post-9/11 veterans and military family members in the Hampton Roads area will soon be able to receive customized life-saving mental health care at no or low-cost through the Steven A. Cohen Military Family Clinic at The Up Center. The clinic, located at 828 Healthy Way, Suite 110, is expected to open by May 2019 and will also serve veterans and their families across Virginia through CVN's online service delivery option.

The expected wait between first contact and a first appointment at the new Cohen Military Family Clinic is less than one week. For anyone in crisis, the Cohen Clinic will schedule same day appointments. In person and telehealth treatment is available for a variety of mental health issues including depression, anxiety, PTSD, adjustment issues, anger, grief & loss, family issues, transitional challenges, relationship problems, and child behavioral problems.

“We expect our Virginia Beach location to be one of the busiest in our network from inception,” said Dr. Anthony Hassan, President & CEO of the Cohen Veterans Network. “There is a clear need in this community and we have picked the right partner to execute on our community-based model. We are coming here to stack hands and better the lives of military families.”

“The Up Center has a strong competency in mental health counseling services and our mission is closely aligned to the work of the Cohen Veterans Network,” said Tina Gill, President & CEO of The Up Center. “We are very excited to begin this partnership with CVN, which expands our capacity to serve veterans and military families in our community.”
